HMI MONITORING VISIT

Three weeks ago we were paid a visit by Her Majesty's Inspectors of Schools who was looking at the progress we had made since our last Ofsted inspection just over a year ago.

It was a very intense day but we are delighted with the result as we have been judged to be making satisfactory progress with the key issues from the last inspection and we have satisfactory (with lots of good elements) capacity to improve.

One of the best things about the inspection was the fact that the Inspector could tell that the children enjoy learning and that their behaviour is good.

The full inspection report is attached to this newsletter and we hope you will find a few minutes to read it.
